TOKYO, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A mass evacuation of British subjects from the Japanese Empire was indicated today in a British embassy announcement that it had arranged for a ship to come to Japan to remove all British nationals desiring to leave.

As the Japanese government studied closely its delicate relations with the Great Britain and the United States as a result of the Russian-German war, the British embassy issued the following statement:

"In view of freezing regulations a number of British subjects have declared their intention of leaving Japan at the first opportunity. To facilitate their departure the British government will shortly send a ship to Japan."

1,000 BRITONS AFFECTED

"British subjects who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity are being required to get in touch with the nearest British consular officer."

There are about 1,000 Britons living throughout the empire.

The freezing of British and American funds in Japan followed similar steps as Japanese warships in the United States and the British Empire.

Throughout all Japan, each British subject was to receive from his consular officer a letter following the lines of the embassy statement. Britons were silent on details concerning the type of ship to come, its route and the time of its arrival.

FOLLOWS CONFERENCE

The consulates sending out the notices are scattered throughout the Japanese empire and in Manchukuo as well.

The British decision was taken following conferences between Ambassador Sir Robert Craigie and Foreign Minister Tetsujiro Toyoda.

The Japanese government for the moment turned its principal attention to the United States, getting a detailed report on the American situation from the minister to Washington, Kenneth Wakatsuki, who arrived here today and went into conference with Toyoda.

Ambassador Joseph Grew of the United States cancelled plans to spend the weekend outside the capital.

Wakatsuki, who arrived as Japan was awaiting a reply to a message sent to President Roosevelt by Premier Prince Kuniyoshi, told the Japanese press that the warlike structure of the United States had been strengthened sharply.

Interpreting War News

By KIRK L. KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WHAT Hitler really told Mussolini about the future "development and duration of the war" is as much concern to us in Canada as to any belligerent foe of the Axis.

All signs indicate that the unhappy quarrel of the emperors between Europe and Asia may be the happy subject of the disclosure.

Standing outside the direct route the Nazis would like to follow toward Spain and the Axis Minor oil plateau, the Turks are given to understand that for the moment all they will be asked to concede is use of their Black Sea territorial waters in the fight against Russia.

Germany holds in abeyance a demand that Turkey accept all British and Russian as the Nazis were forced out of Iran. And for the time being nothing is said officially about the passage of troops and supplies.

New negotiations testify to the Turkish concern for the East.

ADVISES AGAINST AXIS 'ORDER'

Eden Appeals To Europe To Choose 8-Point Plan

COVENTRY, England, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Anthony Eden advised Europe today to choose the Anglo-American plan for the settlement of the Churchill-Roosevelt Atlantic conference over Hitler's "new order" as stressed at his secret meeting with Mussolini on the Russian war front.

The eight-point declaration of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, the foreign secretary said, "establishes principles which will equally valid for all nations" and "excludes all ideas of hegemony or new leadership in the east or west."

The program will "require the collaboration of us all" he added in a speech to multitudes waiting in which he emphasized the need for more arms for all fronts of the world.

SHORT OF NEEDS

The output of war material by Britain, her allies and the United States "will fall short of our needs," he said.

"We need to grow, we need in a speech, 'the tide of war sweeps wider until it engulfs the world.'"

Britain must help meet the needs of the Russian fighting forces, Mr. Eden said. "Here is a call to duty which we cannot fail."

Strongly urging greater war production, he warned the battle of the war was that "the short of materials is the most costly method of waging war."

Britain cannot be content, he said, "until our men command in every weapons which in design and execution are fully match for the best the enemy can make."

FACE COLD AND RISING UNEMPLOYMENT

This Winter Will Be Tough For People Of Ire

Hardships Loom Unless 60,000 Tons of Wheat, Coal Can Be Imported

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(CDN)—Unless Eire is able to import at least 60,000 tons of wheat and obtain coal and other fuel, this winter is going to be one of the hardest since the great famines of 1846 and 1847.

Although Eire is a land of better, rich cream and excellent stock, insufficiency of wheat and the already serious shortage of fuel may bring great hardships to the thousands of Irish this winter.

Eire is still a gastronomic Utopia for that handful of Britons whose business takes them to Ireland. But the attacks inevitably affect the rest of the country.

EXCLUSIVE
fortunate few who are able to sample the juicy steaks, thick cream and stimulated butter to be found in Eire's capital, Dublin, after the adequate but simple wartime fare of England.

REDUCTION IN BREAD
There will be no shortage in Eire this winter of meat, milk or potatoes, but the great bulk of its poor people face a possible considerable reduction in the importation of at least 60,000 tons in order to produce even less than the normal bread supply. Already white bread has been banned and the standard, compulsory flour is 50 per cent whole wheat—healthier but certainly not as popular.

Dublin's government also has been forced to make a £2,000,000 subsidy for flour in order to keep the bread price down.

Today's war, which larks around Eire's shores but which, as far as Eire is concerned, has been in effect for four times the time in the form of German bombs, has raised the cost of living and affected the living standards of 3,000,000 persons. Tea and sugar are the only two items of diet which have been actually rationed. Tea rationing struck the Irish hard, and a household must search the smallest shops for the few tins of tea left. The rationing of sugar is also a problem.

COFFEE SCARCITY
Coffee is becoming almost impossible to get. Sugar is plentiful, but in order to insure steady supplies, it is rationed at the rate of a pound weekly per person. The British get half a pound weekly of sugar, but two ounces of tea.

Common sense is running very low, and a household must search the smallest shops for the few tins of tea left. The rationing of sugar is also a problem.

SHORTAGE OF COAL
There is no coal to be had and what little remains is being used for the army. The army is being used for the army. The army is being used for the army.

PROTEST MEETING
Farmers are now protesting that they cannot get adequate supplies of oil and coal to harvest and thresh their crops. This Sunday, there is a protest meeting at the farmers in College Green, Dublin, to protest against the lack of coal for threshing. Wood and turf will not produce the same results, they say. Although the government will not produce the same results, they say. Although the government will not produce the same results, they say.

TRENDING EXODUS
Eire's government has frowned on the tremendous exodus to Britain in the past, but it would seem that the British authorities should be grateful the writer for all the jobs there that might be open to Irishmen.

Support Plan To Study Refunding

Full support of the formation of a joint government and bondholders committee to study plans for refunding the provincial debt was expressed in a resolution passed by independent members of the legislature at a meeting held Saturday at the legislative building.

The independent members look with favor on the appointment of committees, one representing the bondholders and one representing the government, to negotiate a refunding of the public debt of the province.

Independent members of the legislature met at their committee rooms at the government buildings Saturday, to discuss plans for a conference later this year, of members, defeated candidates and supporters of the Independent movement. This conference likely will be held either in October or November.

All members of the group were present save D. M. Duggan, Edmonton and Dr. L. J. O'Brien, Grand Prairie.

J. H. Walker, M.L.A. for Warner and Independent House member, Major Andrew Davidson, chairman of the executive committee of the province, George MacLennan, Pembina, group whip, J. Percy Lodge, secretary and other leaders of the movement were early at the building in preparation for the conference.

While many purposes of this conference is to discuss an agenda for the coming general meeting, it is likely that some discussion will take place regarding the proposed plan to refund the provincial public debt of the province.

Three Survivors Of Plane Crash Found Floating On Raft
B.C.P.—Three survivors of 15 persons aboard a Ford trimotor plane, missing Wednesday, were found on a raft on the Cageta river today, river authorities reported today.

The survivors said their 13 companions had turned back when the plane crashed.

Even yet, this government cannot very well give them what it does not have.

One of Eire's principal industries long has been the export of cattle to Britain. In normal times, 15,000 head of cattle have reached England weekly. Last January all such imports from Eire were stopped because of the risk of foot and mouth disease.

These principles, he said, are: 1.—No nation may ever be in a position to wage aggressive war against its neighbor.

Edmonton Bulletin

An increasing number of Edmonton families has awakened to the fact that the greatest security that can be enjoyed is through home ownership. Here, in this typical Canadian community, newly-marrieds as well as old timers are planning to move into homes of their own—for which, in many instances they will pay no more, and perhaps less, than the equivalent of present monthly rental. Where to buy? Where to build? Through whom to find a reliable building contractor? Who to rely on for supplies? These and more questions are answered for you on The Bulletin's Builders Page. Use it as a directory to home ownership.

Automatic Heating Is Geared To Weather

Automatic heating, being cleaner in operation, permits the use of basement space for extra living room or recreational purposes.

How to maintain an even, comfortable heat indoors while outside temperatures range from twenty below to thirty above, has always been one of the chief problems of the Canadian householder. Anyone who tends a hand-fired boiler knows that it is necessary to camp beside the furnace twenty-four hours a day, regulating drafts, shaking down the fire and adding fuel to keep in tune with the whims of the weather.

Heating engineers and manufacturers, ever on the alert to provide the maximum in heating comfort and efficiency, have now made it possible for a heating plant to take care of itself—one that is automatically geared to the weather, delivers heat to order, when and as much as desired. By the addition of a few devices, easily installed, householders may be relieved of practically all the labor and worry of providing comfort heat for the family, points out the experts.

Gas burning boilers require only the addition of a thermostat and the necessary safety controls. With a coal-fired boiler, a stoker and draft regulators will also have to be added.

The thermostat—a small instrument like a thermometer, is usually placed in the living room, and can be set to the room temperature desired. When the room temperature begins to drop below that set on the thermostat, the latter automatically operates the draft regulator, which in turn opens the drafts to speed up the fire. When the correct room temperature is reached again, the thermostat automatically operates to close the drafts.

If a lower room temperature is desired during sleeping hours, an electric clock switch will automatically reset the thermostat to a higher temperature at whatever hour desired.

Automatic heating also takes care of sudden changes in outdoor temperature. When the temperature goes down several degrees, it usually takes some time for the cold air to penetrate indoors, and under orinary circumstances, the heat would not be increased until the cold is indoors. With an outside thermostat, however, the boiler is given advance warning so that by the time the lower temperature from outside penetrates into the house, it has already been compensated.

The thermostat will keep an even steady heat as long as there is fuel in the furnace or boiler. The job of providing the fuel is automatically taken care of by the coal stoker, or the gas or oil burner, depending on the type of fuel used. Any of these may be easily added to an existing heating plant by an experienced plumbing contractor, although if the present boiler or furnace has outlived its usefulness, one of the new boilers especially designed for economical fuel consumption is recommended.

As the health and comfort of the entire family are dependent on the heating system during the long winter months, any improvements to the plant may be considered a wise investment.

Interpreting War News

between Turkey and Europe have been prohibited, it is reported. Effective next week, everyone in the strategic Dardanelles straits sector must carry identification papers.

The million bayonets which Ankara has sold would have an attempt to force Turkey into the war look less formidable now, in the light of the invasion of Russia and the portents that the Mediterranean and Asia Minor are faced this fall and winter.

Just what the Nazis might make of Turkey's territorial waters is less clear than that they will have every available facility to wrest control of the Black Sea from the Red naval force.

RUSS STRONGER HERE

The undertaking promises to be substantially more difficult than domination of the Baltic, which was brought nearer by Thursday's capture of Tallinn and the subsequent blow dealt Russian warships and transports.

In the 100-mile-long Black Sea, Russia naval superiority is relatively stronger. Furthermore, distance limits the degree of attack by the Germans, who are more capable than the British in the Baltic as a result of the capture of the Bosphorus and the Russian must still be dislodged from Dage and other islands from which air raids are still being made on Berlin.

Revolution Brews In Nazi-Occupied Countries Stated

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Archduke Otto von Hapsburg, 27-year-old heir to the Austrian throne, said in an interview here Friday night that under the inspiration of the V for victory symbol revolutionaries are brewing throughout the German-occupied sections of Europe.

"It is the first time there has been a general symbol opposed to the swastika," he said. "It has had tremendous effect on the occupied countries of Europe."

Archduke Otto was in Toronto for a short visit en route from the United States to Quebec City where he will visit members of his family before making a tour of western Canada.

Alberta District News In Brief

Border Boundary Is Troublesome

Following the order of the Provincial Board of Health closing all places of public assembly to children under 17 years of age, that imaginary line that separates Alberta and Saskatchewan, and splits Lloydminster, again came into prominence. The public school in the border town is situated in Alberta, and the high school in Saskatchewan.

At a meeting of the town council Monday night, it was moved that the order of the Alberta Board of Health be brought to the attention of the school boards and that they act upon it. Consequently a special meeting of both boards was called Tuesday night when the matter was thoroughly considered. As a result, the high school board, which operates a school in Saskatchewan, will abide by the request of the Alberta authorities as well as the public school board, and all schools in Lloydminster will be closed until the Board of Health of Alberta lifts the ban.

There are still signs of difficulty in Lloydminster over the Saskatchewan Educational Tax, especially since a grocery store was opened up on the Alberta side of town where no tax need be charged. In order to come to some equitable understanding regarding the collection of the tax, the Board of Trade is endeavoring to have officials of the Saskatchewan government visit the town and look over the situation.

Old Chief Blueblanket Says

Indian Soothsayer Is Pessimist

Winter Will Be Early, Hard

By Jim Gilroy

Old Chief "Barometer" Blueblanket, the medicine man of Muskeg Creek who has a reputation in these parts of always being 100 per cent correct on his weather predictions, came today through trackless wilderness the other day with advance notice of what the coming winter will be like.

It's bad news for Hitler in Russia, but good news for loggers and trappers and others who enjoy long cold winters. The winter is going to come early and stay late, says the Indian seer, and the snow is going to be "heap plenty deep."

Predictions turned paler still as the wilderness wizard said that the snow would be the deepest seen for the past four years.

"Wah!" grunted Blueblanket.

"Cachem mbova (moose) easy this winter; snow so deep his foot run for when smell him."

Asked to explain the secret of his knowledge, the old medicine man said the signs were plain for anyone to note. The beavers had built extra large lodges and had stored up hundreds of green poles; squirrels were gathering tremendous caches of spruce cones; and their hair was thick and long unusually early in the season. Grouse and chickens have thick coats of feathers, and flies are gathering in houses one month ahead of their regular time.

Finally, the early and heavy display of northern lightning was as clear as a noon sun, a warning of what to come.

Women's Officer Visits Red Deer

Miss Elizabeth Smellie, O.R.E., of Ottawa, superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, and organizing supervisor for the recently formed Canadian Women's Auxiliary Army Service Corps, was here Tuesday in the course of a Dominion-wide tour.

While at Red Deer, Miss Smellie paid a visit to the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps (Advanced) training centre, where she conferred with the commandant, Lt.-Col. J. J. Burton-William, V.D., and his officers.

In the afternoon Miss Smellie met Captain F. MacDonnell, commander of the Red Deer detachment of the Alberta Women's Service Corps. A number of officers of the provincial organization were present from the Red Deer detachment.

Mrs. Mary Moore, provincial controller; Mrs. Dorothy Merritt, provincial adjutant; and Mrs. Marjorie Sweetlove, provincial liaison officer.

During his major league career, "Muddy" Rue, famous catcher, hit only four home runs, one for each 127 times at bat.

RYEMONT
As the ending section crew was coming from the east towards Ryemont shortly before noon on Tuesday, a freight special was travelling towards the west. They met at a sharp curve, cut through ten feet banks, and the section crew just had time to jump when the west-bound engine crashed into the freight. The four men with the section all escaped without a scratch, but the freight was ground in pieces by the engine.

Men, Truck, Tree: Narrow Escape

Jack McDonald and McGregor Clark mixed death by lightning, when the truck Clark was driving broke an axle coming up a hill south of Red Deer. The truck was heavily loaded with lumber and crashed through the back of the cab when jammed into the tree. The lumber passed right between the two men sitting in the cab, grazing their cheeks, but not harming them either. It crashed through the windshield.

Looking Them Over

THE world around these parts is one that no mortal man can out-wit—unless he pulls stunts and hits for the coconut belt. But for countless years we have been running into lay rams, birds and snout for our football, so this year the Junior League decided to start a full month earlier and avoid such handicaps.

If you were among the thousand odd shivering souls out at Clarke Stadium last night, you'd know how little success this effort to beat the weather man's gun met with.

Under such adverse conditions, you couldn't do much of a job of sitting up the clubs. The strong north wind either stopped, or carried kicks and passes in a freakish and outlandish way depending on the direction they were aimed. The boys fumbled a lot with their fingers and those up in the stands had difficulty concentrating on anything but the idea of getting back to their fireplaces.

These Facts Shown Up
The coach Tommy Hays of the Maple Leafs has far better subs than he thought he had. When he lost three stars in the first quarter, his subs rose to the occasion like veterans. Another fact to become apparent is that Coach Ernie Stevens' EAC squad is not as powerful as some expected, but still it is a much stronger team in 1940.

Most serious fact of all was that there is obviously a greater tendency to rough play this season than in the past. Three serious player injuries in one game is a bit too much for junior sports. There was a lot of high tackling last night, needless piling on and roughing of one sort or another. The boys with the whistles will be cracked down hard on now or on all these clubs will wind up in hospital beds and the game will be on the black list of all parents.

The west is committed to give the new compromise rules a fair and honest trial and in view of that you can hardly draw conclusions from last night's affair. This was, however, the third game here under the new code and so far I haven't seen anything to indicate that they are as good as our old Western Conference rules.

It Booms Hospital Business
UNTIL I see evidence to the contrary, I'll remain convinced that the elimination, or reduction, of interference ahead of the ball carrier is the fastest way ever devised of filling every bed in the nearest hospital. When the ball carrier is on his own, he is generally hit by two or three tacklers at once—and long before he can run far enough to give the crowd any excitement. With full interference, the blockers take up the tacklers on a man-to-man basis and, if they do their job right, the ball carrier isn't brought down by a third of the opposing team. Legal blocking seldom, if ever, injures the player blocked.

There has only been one sound objection ever advanced against unlimited interference. That objection is that the line must charge fifty long distances on each play and this wears them out so quickly that plenty of good reserves must be kept on tap. Teams in the Western Conference never could afford enough line reserves for this style of play. Remember, they are tired out—not carried out on a stretcher.

Theoretically the new rules should bring a game in which fancy ball-handling on lateral, intricate running plays and wide-open tactics predominate. I sincerely hope it will, but so far largely little of this has been shown here. It is fair, however, to assume that more and more may be seen as the boys develop skill in the new technique.

Advance Guard Totem Pole Golf Busy At Jasper

JASPER PARK LODGE, AUG. 30.—With an entry list of two hundred and several hundred more, the advance guard of golfers who will attend the 16th annual Totem Pole golf contest, commencing Sunday, arrived here Friday night. Many more will be here today, while the main party will arrive on Sunday noon.

So great is the entry from the Pacific Coast that a special all sleeping car train will leave Vancouver early Saturday evening with more than 150 members of the golfing fraternity aboard. The course never was in better shape and plenty of cards in the seventies have been turned in during practice rounds. Dr. Joe Sullivan, famous amateur hockey star of former years, is a member of the course in the low seventies, as well as Jack Stucky, Edmonton, twice winner of the Totem pole trophy; Bobby Heidrich, Minneapolis; and a number of others.

The qualifying round will be played on Monday with the officials meeting by the lieutenant-governor of Alberta on Monday morning.

Sports Continues Ride Money Nags
VANCOUVER, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Jockey Emil Sporti continued his winning streak of Thursday at Hastings Park here Friday when he won the eighth race in the seven races in which he was up.

Thursday Sporti brought in five winners and two places in the seven races in which he was up. He brought Golden Somers home in the eighth race, a 100-yard race, and had finished Gift and Good Han in to show in the second and fourth.

Friday morning, Sporti rode the pace of the day, was won by H. Marjell, ridden by Westhouse. Sporti on Magnus Line placed second and Bailey, on Fairy Whirl, third.

First daily double paid $20.35 and the second daily double $13.25.

Here are a trio of aces who will hold much of the spotlight when the Alberta Open gets underway at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club on Sunday morning. On the left is Stan Leonard of Canada, winner of the Canadian Professional Golf Association championship for the second consecutive year. The seats, which were there as early as the club would start Tuesday, taking orders for world series tickets.

"We have returned thousands of dollars' worth of orders, but there seems to be no sense in delaying action after Tuesday," said Barrow. "But we'll not have the tickets printed until after Commerce department holds its meeting."

JUNIOR FOOTBALL
Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. the South Side and Maple Leafs take in the second game of the City Junior Football League at Clarke Stadium.

Three Players Seriously Hurt

STARTING in just where they quit last fall, the Maple Leafs plunged, passed and kicked their way to a 13-4 victory over the Edmonton Junior Football League at Clarke Stadium.

The Leafs' first touchdown was a lucky break in the early minutes of play, but they earned the rest of their points by hard play.

It was a costly victory for the blue and white. When the game was over Coach Tommy Hays had three of his stars in hospital awaiting new stunts in the mid-field struggle.

WIND IS BIG HELP
The third period of the EAC, the north end of the grid again and the wind in their backs. With this aid, they booted their way down the field until Lyons finally booted a punt over the Leaf goal line.

Barry took the kick, but had no chance to run it out and grounded the ball for a safety touch. That gave the EAC their fourth and final point.

Leafs dominated the final period finally with the aid of fine kicking and the high wind. However, the EAC defensive half and defense every effort at a major score. Kicks brought two returns of EAC safety men.

PLENTY OF FUMBLES
Raw, bitter weather struck Edmonton just a few hours before game time and resulted in six fumbles for the EAC and 10 for the Leafs. Despite the miserable weather the game drew a crowd of well over 1,000.

The EAC Line pushed across the EAC line for two touchdowns—one in the first and one in the second period—converted the first touch and then counted two more. The final quarter featured their points on rushes, three in the first period and one in the third.

The first Leaf touchdown came under the city category. Barker fumbled the initial kickoff by blue and white, but recovered the ball. The EAC then made one point for five yards. On the next play, Joe Lyons kicked but it was a hummer springing off his leg and low. Kinks of the Leafs grabbed the ball and sprinted 25 yards along the sideline for a opening touchdown of the season.

SCORE THREE HOURS
The balance of the period was controlled by the EAC. They took advantage of the strong wind, but at their backs and kick kicking deep into Maple Leaf territory for third downs by Ken Torrance, Ross McKinnon and Joe Lyons. The quarter ended without the Leafs being able to ever get the ball into EAC territory for their third touchdown.

In the second period, an EAC fumble, a 30-yard fumble by McKinnon to Klineo and a 30-yard sweep around his own right end by McKinnon put the Leafs deep within the EAC line where they fought savagely against a stubborn defense for nearly 10 minutes until Barclay finally slipped away around the end for the second Leaf touchdown after getting the ball.

PORTLAND GOLFER MEETS DARK HORSE FOR BANFF TITLE
BANFF, Aug. 30.—A golfing dark horse from Freeport, H. C. W. Furst, and Don Thompson, the well known Pacific coast campaigner from Portland, Ore., will meet over 30 holes today to settle the Banff Springs Hotel trophy and the championship of Banff 12th annual golf week.

Furst, outdistanced Eddie Wieman, the Boston Bruins hockey star from Regina, to win on the 18th green in Friday's semifinals. Thompson came through a 4 and 3 to eliminate Willie H. Ripley, Calgary and Pasadena, Calif., whose standing was even par to the fifteenth hole. H. C. W. Furst, Vancouver, was the week's best record on this course.

Thompson, who represents the Waverly club in the one city, rules as favorite in the opening match. Furst plays to a seven handicap while Thompson is listed with the U.S.C.A. at seven. The Portland man was even par to the fifteenth hole. H. C. W. Furst, Vancouver, was the week's best record on this course.

TENNIS SINGLES AT FOREST HILLS
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Donald McNeill, the little lad from Oklahoma City, gets the privilege of sending the first ball spinning across the turf in Forest Hills stadium today to open the 1941 United States singles tennis championship.

That's in recognition of his position as defending champion, and about the only recognition Don gets is that he needs George Perot of Pittsburgh in the opening match. Due to his poor tournament record he won the title last September. McNeill is seeded in a field of 64 this year behind Bobby Karp and Frank Kovacs.

Death At Sea For Fascist Airmen

When an Italian bomber was shot down during an attack on a British naval unit, two of its crew baled out and were picked up, as shown, by a destroyer. One was found to be dead and the other was so badly injured that he died soon afterwards. At the top, the rescue ship approaches one of the airmen, whose parachute billows on the surface of the water. At the bottom, he is pulled toward the boat by his parachute, the lines of which are clearly visible.

Duke Visits U.S. Naval Base

Air Commodore H.R.H. the Duke of Kent inspects marine guard of honor who turned out to welcome him upon arrival at the U.S. naval air station for tour of defence activities in the Norfolk area. He visited the air station, the naval operating base, the navy yard at Portsmouth, Newport News Shipbuilding plant and British vessels in the Hampton Roads area.

Sound military logic lies back of the Russo-British invasion of Iran. Of first importance is the fact that the only practicable winter supply route for Russia lies across Iran's humped-back mountains. Second, it closes the last open door through the Middle East in the face of the Axis. With occupation of Iran, there will be a solid line of buffer states—British controlled—from Egypt to the borders of Britain's Russian ally. Third, British prestige in the Mohammedan world demands "no fooling" with a recalcitrant state so close to the borders of Mohammedan India. Fourth, the move strengthens the psychological ties between Britain and Russia, allowing the partners to become side-by-side geographical allies, instead of allies separated by German armies. The first reason was compelling. Russia needs and will continue to need Anglo-American goods and munitions to stay in the war with the Nazis. The route through warm water in the head of the Persian Gulf, thence across Iran and the Caspian Sea to Russia, affords the only relatively safe road for those supplies.

V And The Man

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, the very personification of the British Commonwealth's "V" for Victory campaign, makes the "V" sign in response to cheers as he left Iceland. The visit occurred on the trip that was climaxed by the historic meeting between Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

Is Feature

WINNIPEG, Aug. 30.—(CP)—Winnipeg wheat futures prices were thin and featureless on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange when trading began. Grain prices were mostly steady, and very moderate hedging were sufficient to offset minor fluctuations. The market for mill and mill purchases as prices eased cent to 72½ for October, 74½ forember and 78½ cents a bushel for futures.
